Introduction from the Chair

I am pleased to present the Tropical Tablelands Tourism Strategic Plan 2019 – 2024. This plan is a working document outlining the priorities to be undertaken over the next five years.

Tropical Tablelands Tourism (TTT) is primarily responsible for promoting the “Atherton Tablelands” as a tourist destination by marketing, branding & advocacy activities aimed at increasing visitor numbers, length of stay and spend from visitors. The organisation is funded by our membership base, Mareeba Shire Council and Tablelands Regional Council.

The TTT Board consists of eleven directors (volunteers) with a wealth of experience in the tourist industry. The board is well placed to provide expert advice in relation to marketing and development of the “Atherton Tablelands” as a major tourism destination in North Queensland.

The Atherton Tablelands has an amazing array of natural attractions including wetlands, waterfalls and wildlife. The majority of our attractions are free for visitors to enjoy, which make us an attractive destination to the “Self-Drive” market.

Historically, the Self-Drive market has been dominated by North Queensland locals (Townsville-North and Cape & Gulf). In more recent times the Grey Nomad market (Caravans & RV’s) has increased significantly. The abundance of free natural attractions also makes us an attractive destination to Backpackers (Domestic & International). We will continue to promote the Atherton Tablelands to these markets with a particular focus on Townsville. With a large population base and minimal competition from other tourist centres, Townsville is a key target market in the short to medium term.

Our abundance of natural attractions also sees us well placed to engage with the rapidly growing “Adventure Tourism” market. We already have considerable assets supporting mountain biking, trekking and water sports. It is important to note that the emerging “Adventure Tourism” market is probably a little more high-end, which makes that market particularly attractive from an economic development perspective.

While we currently enjoy good visitor numbers from these markets, the high-end International and Southern Domestic markets are very attractive from the perspective of increased spend. However, access to these high-end markets will require broader engagement with the larger “Tourism Trade”. Access to these markets is highly competitive and very expensive from a marketing perspective. Access to these high-end markets will also require considerable development of commissionable tourism products, both accommodation and attractions. While “Barriers to Entry” for such markets are considerable, the potential economic benefits are also significant. Albeit a longer-term strategic direction, we will continue with best endeavours (within funding constraints) to prepare the Atherton Tablelands tourism industry for engagement with the broader tourism trade (International & Southern Domestic).

An Action Plan will follow this Strategic Plan, listing our proposed marketing activities with timeframes and indicative costs. Current marketing activities have a strong focus on digital marketing opportunities and our newly released website (athertontablelands.com.au) is already attracting high traffic volumes.

The future of the tourism industry on the Atherton Tablelands is quite exciting and we look forward to working with our funding partners and our members to deliver our vision “For the Atherton Tablelands to be recognised as one of the world’s best self-drive destination to engage with nature, culinary delights and adventure trails”.

Tropical Tablelands Tourism Chairman

Executive Summary

The tourism industry is the total of all businesses that directly provide goods or services to facilitate business, pleasure and leisure activities away from the home environment. Everyone gains from properly managed tourism and it can be especially important in regional areas because it diversifies the areas economic base and expands the employment market.

Tourism businesses such as accommodation and tour operators represent only a small proportion of the people employed in the tourism industry or who benefit from it. As the tourist dollars trickle down, they spread throughout the community and the economy in often surprising ways.

Tourism is a sector of the economy where local government's direct investment in tourism marketing, products and services is targeted primarily at non-residents – the end economic, social and environmental benefits to communities largely being derived from the resulting visitor spending.

Atherton Tablelands Promotion Bureau Limited, trading as Tropical Tablelands Tourism (TTT) is an Australian Public Company, industry lead, not-for-profit, limited by guarantee, membership-based organisation. It is recognised as the official local tourism organisation for the Atherton Tablelands, the region that sits within the boundaries of Mareeba Shire Council and Tablelands Regional Council.

Ultimately it is the local community that makes or breaks tourism. Effective collaboration within the tourism community is critical for the implementation of this strategy. Tropical Tablelands Tourism must share the vision and implementation with its key stakeholders including local government, Tablelands Futures Corporation, Chambers of Commerce and industry group to gain their support and adoption of this plan.

The Tropical Tablelands Tourism Strategic Plan 2019 – 2024 is a progression from the 2014 – 2018 Strategic Plan. The purpose of this strategy is to continue to serve as a guide for tourism development and destination promotion for the next five years and clearly defines the priorities, the milestones and the measures to show that that the organisation is on track and delivering the best possible outcomes.

Current Situation

TOURISM SNAPSHOT

The area that is the Atherton Tablelands is located west from the Tropical North's central hub of Cairns. The area is blessed with a multitude of natural attributes and a climate that is more moderate to that of the coastal strip.

The Atherton Tablelands is a diverse region, covering an area of 64,768 square kilometres. The main population centres on the Atherton Tablelands are Mareeba and Atherton. Smaller towns include Malanda, Herberton, Kuranda, Ravenshoe, Millaa Millaa, Chillagoe, Dimbulah, Mt Garnet, Mt Molloy, Tinaroo and Yungaburra.

The considerable range in elevation, rainfall and soil types has produced an incredibly diverse and beautiful region. There is a prolific diversity in natural flora and fauna, ranging from tropical highland rainforests to dry tropical savannah.

To simplify the key target market for the region would see a significant spotlight on the self-drive traveller. The region is seen as the gateway to Cape York. It is part of the Savannah Way and the Great Tropical Drive has numerous drive experiences that flow through the entire area. All of these drive routes appeal to both domestic and international visitation because of the diversity of landscapes across the whole region.
